"There were no 'credits' prior to the payment of State Bounties, in 1863."

"The town of Lee, Massachusetts, has absolutely had no dispute with any other town as to her credits and quota."

"Under the call of the president, in July and August, 1862, Lee paid the following bounties: $3,500 to thirty-five men in the 37th Regt.; $5,800 to fifty-eight men in the 49th Regt.;
total, $9,300.- (Sup. 10, chap. 18.)

Under the chapter above quoted, Lee got reimbursed from the State for the same amounts given; received from Great Barrington $100, for one transfer,- Lee to refund to Great Barrington the $100."

"In 1863, when the Draft was ordered, Massachusetts represented to the national government the injustice of no recognition being made by the government of 26,000 men (or thereabouts) who had been furnished in the navy by the Commonwealth. The national government, recognizing the justice of the claim as set forth by Gov. Andrews, ordered that all men who enlisted in Massachusetts in the navy and passed to the Receiving Ship known as the "Ohio," at the Charlestown Navy Yard, who had enlisted prior to the appointment of the commission or who should enlist up to February, 1864,- should be counted upon the quota of Massachusetts. The governor appointed a commission of three members to go on board the "Ohio," copy the names, and assign them upon the quota of the various towns, according to the population. Although some of these men had enlisted long before the appointment of the commission (say in 1861), for one year, and were discharged in 1862 by expiration of term of service, yet they were counted upon the quota of the towns set against their names, the said towns receiving the benefit of this quota, and, consequently, having less men to furnish upon the Draft.

The units were three one year men counting as an enlistment for three years; three two years' men counting for two three years' men;- the unit being three years.

A man who served honorably 365 days, or was discharged for disability having served a less period, or who died in the service, his family would be entitled to a settlement in the town upon whose quota he was placed."

— Letter on file in office of —
Adj. Gen. of Mass.

"Benjamin A. Morey, Druggist, of Lee, Mass., received authority to recruit for the Western Bay State Regt. in the fall of 1861. He was 45 years old, and had a son Benjamin F. Morey, about 19 years old then, serving as an enlisted man in Gurra's Louisiana 5th N.Y. Vols. Co. B., for whom he desired to obtain a commission. A Lieutenant's commission was promised conditionally upon the enlistment of a stated number of men & that the commission should be given to the young man, & also his discharge from his enlistment.

The men were enlisted and taken into camp at Pittsfield, Mass., where they were mustered into service by Capt. Nettleton, of the Regt., January 8, 1862. The officers of the Company (including 1st Lieut. Benjamin A. Morey) were mustered in at Boston, February 19, 1862, by Capt. John W. Goodhue, 11th U. S. Inf.

The Regt. then accepted by the State as the 31st Mass. Inf. Vols. was soon afterward ordered to leave for service, but Benjamin F. Morey being unable to obtain his discharge at that time, Benjamin A. Morey went with the Regt. mustered and acting as 1st Lieut. of Co. I, but not commissioned. — since Gov. Andrew had commissioned only the Colonel and a Surgeon of the Regt., leaving N.B. The clause which states that St. Benjamin A. Morey "took part" in the battle of Antietam, cannot be correct. Benjamin A. Morey enlisted in the 49th, Sep. 16, 1862, and the battle of Antietam was fought Sep. 17, 1862.

The commissions of the other officers to be issued upon the recommendation of the Colonel.

Lieut. Benjamin A. Morey succeeded in obtaining his discharge, which was soon after the battle of Antietam, in which he took part, - that is, in September, or October of 1862.

Benjamin F. Morey reported for duty then, and Benjamin A. was allowed to resign and return home.

In March, 1863, 1st Lieut. Benjamin F. Morey was appointed A. A. S. G. 3rd Brig. 3rd Div. Dept. Gulf.

March 11, 1864, Benjamin F. Morey was mustered as Capt. & assigned to Co. A, but served through the Red River campaign as A. A. S. of the 5th Brig. Cav. Div. 19th A. C.

Capt. Benjamin F. Morey resigned - Sept. 9, 1864.

The foregoing statement is made from my personal knowledge & recollection, assisted by the partial records now in the A. G. O. of Mass., to complete which records & to correct errors therein, the information in the possession of the War Dept. U. S. is desired.

Dec. 3, 1862.

43 Joy St., Boston, Mass.,
June 11, 1897.

Dr. D. M. Wilcox,
Lee, Massachusetts.

Dear Sir:-

I send you, by express, the revised list of Lee's soldiers and sailors. As I have virtually worn out your list by much handling, in dusty offices, I have prepared a new one, which covers the corrections and all additional information which I have been able to collect. I have examined the original Descriptive, Master-in and Master-out Rolls, Berkshire County list, Hospital records, and the various papers returned by the town of Lee during the war period, in addition to the regular copied records; and I give you the full record of all the men credited to Lee, together with occupation and birthplace, when it could be obtained,- the latter having been taken from the original enlistment papers, as it does not appear on the copies.

You will find variation in the spelling of some of the names. In some instances, they are recorded in several different ways. I have given, in the regular list, the spelling which now appears in the Index, as it will be more convenient for future reference; and where I have found variations, I have so indicated, on page 130-131. Col. Capelle assures me that they are constantly at work on the records, correcting any errors, in the spelling of names, etc. as they are brought to their notice. The records are, at present, imperfect, and incomplete.

The discharge of the soldiers in the Veteran Reserve Corps I have given, so far as it appears in the records of the office. Any further information in regard to them, also to the sailors, and any others on the list whose full, or partial record, I have failed to give, will have to be procured, I am told, from Washington. I feel quite satisfied, and have been assured by the custodian, that I have made an exhaustive transcript of the information which exists in the Adjutant-General's office, concerning the men from Lee. Nothing further has been found relating to the "Boys' Jumpers," and there is nothing more than what I have given, in regard to the United States Colored Troops.

"Never joined regiment," apparently amounts to about the same as "Deserter," although the more common expression is: "Rendered no service." These men were not assigned to any company in the regiments in which they enlisted.

I have obtained from the Adjutant-General of New York, a number of the records of men whose names you gave me (and which I also found upon the various lists returned from the town of Lee, during the war period). As the names, etc. correspond so closely, it has seemed to me they might be identical; although the fact of their having been residents of Lee I have been unable to establish. I am informed that the records do not show the place of residence at time of enlistment, - merely the place of enlistment. You will find, accompanying my list, the records furnished me from New York; also items of information from Conn., Ill., Penn., and Vt. I have made an attempt to get from Washington the records of doubtful cases which I could not get elsewhere, but was told that information of that nature could only be given to those who, officially, have the matter in hand for the purpose of establishing pension, bounty, or other claims. Mr. Baker assures me, however, that it could be done, through the agency of the governor, a small amount of money ($15 to $20) being appropriated for the purpose of remunerating the clerks for the extra service.

In the main, your list corresponds with mine. I have found, as you will see, some names which had been overlooked, - a few in the History of Berkshire County which I consulted, and quite a number of sailors, credited to Lee. The list of sailors is explained by the letter preceding it, dictated to me by the custodian of the Archives, the information contained in which will doubtless not be new to you. I have wondered, all through the research, why there were not more drafted men from the town of Lee; but perhaps this is sufficient explanation. I have had numerous "hunts" for one Thomas Johnston, substitute for Charles H. Lay, but they have all been futile. If you can give me any sort of a clue, I should like to follow it out. I think my list includes all the sailors mentioned by you, with the exception of David Gilson, whom I did not find. I have retained a copy of the men concerning whom no record has been found, and if at any time I should succeed in getting trace of them, I will with pleasure transmit the intelligence to you.

The miscellaneous pages from 90 to 115, may be of little use to you, and the information on the separate slips you may not care for at all. I have simply thrown it in for what it is worth, and some of it may prove a clue toward establishing identities. I did not know but occasion might arise when it would be useful, and as I had to go over the ground, I thought best to give you all connected in any way with Lee, and you can easily discard the superfluous.

The matter of remuneration I am satisfied to leave entirely with you. I have, undoubtedly, been over much ground that you did not expect me to cover, and as I understood in the beginning the circumstances under which you have undertaken the work, I shall make no specific charge for my time; a reasonable compensation will be satisfactory, - an expression of whatever value the work may have for you, or for the town. I have been sufficiently interested in the matter to devote enough of my time to make the research a thorough one, and as the records and papers are so scattered, it has been one of those things upon which one could spend any amount of time.

I merely send bill, then, for the copies of the Charter of the town of Lee, made some time since, and a charge for postage to cover what I have expended. I deferred the bill until this work should be completed. I will make no further apology for having kept you waiting so long; it has troubled me, but, considering the time which I have had at my disposal from my other work, and the necessary delays to which I have been subjected, I have done as well as I could and make the research a thorough one. If I have overlooked any points which you would like further investigated, please do not hesitate to ask me. Should there be any published account of the Lee soldiers, I think a copy would be gratefully received at the office.

My address, after June 19th, will be: c/o O. S. Taylor, Esq., #74 Sargeant Street, Springfield, Mass. Any communication will reach me there, and I shall avoid the risk of forwarding from 3 Joy street. If I can be of further service to you at any time, I shall be pleased to hear from you. I expect to return to Boston the last of September next.

Hoping the work may prove satisfactory, I remain

Yours respectfully,

Charlotte E. Tuttle.
